

Our sprint goal was to make a GUI that connects and displays data from a database of basketball players. We also want to add buttons to add and edit and delete a player that updates the database in real time.